10X10 SESSIONS:

Dare to Lead Now

It's time to stop making excuses. Stop waiting for the perfect circumstances. It's not about being married, it's not about getting more education, lead NOW from where you are!

Judi Cotignola

Dare to Move Forward

Your past does not determine your potential. God will use the failures of your past as the steppingstones for his glory.

Julie Seals

Dare to Take the High Road

Every leader will face injustice. How will you respond?

Shamya Tolbert

Dare to Dream

Stop talking yourself out of thinking bigger! God has amazing things in store, if you will only shut the door on the lies from the enemy and open the door to what He has destined for you.

Teresa Rolls-Wilcox

Dare to Stand Out

There is a pull in both the world and the church to conform. Will you dare to not fit in?

Candace Evans Brown

Dare to Take a Stand

There are times when every leader is faced with a difficult decision to stand with what is right or conform to self-preserve. Will you dare to take a stand?

Michelle Torres-Gonzalez

Dare to Reinvent Yourself

Seasons change, and so does life in leadership. God says in His word that there is a time and purpose for every season under heaven, and you will not remain the same in leadership through the decades. How will you reinvent yourself for His glory?

Janis Russo

Dare to Have Standards

Great leaders are called to play to more than the lowest common denominator. The draw to compromise or live-in mediocrity. How do you rise above?

Gabrielle Santiago

Dare to Believe

As a leader, you will need more than your fair share of miracles. You will face times of disappointment, but will you dare to believe again?

Heidi Conley

Dare to Face Criticism

How will you rise above when criticized? Will you respond or will you react? Your leadership growth will depend on your response!

Natalie Kahler

WORKSHOPS:

Loving Life as a Pastor's Wife!

If you Google "pastor's wife" it may scare you. Don't believe the doom and gloom! Being a pastor's wife can be an incredible joy IF you have the right perspective. Shay Cole is a seasoned pastor's wife who is loving life and loving ministry! She can't wait to encourage you in this session.

Shay Cole

Leading from the Second Chair

How do you lead when you are not the one in charge where you work? Come learn how to serve and thrive from the "second chair" with seasoned leader, Christina Johnson.

Christina Johnson

Hope is an Anchor for the Soul

Have you recently gone through things that are wearing you down emotionally, spiritually, and in every way possible? If you need a major shot of encouragement, this one's for you!

Bonnie Olsen

When Everything Hits the Fan

Sheri Hawley

We all face conflict, and some do it better than others. Sheri's techniques have proved true time and time again. Come and learn from her!

Creating a Message: One Size Doesn't Fit All!

Rachael Butler

When you are preaching, WHO you are talking to matters! As a speaker, you may teach the same material in a variety of settings. How do you craft the material to fit the context? Truth doesn't change, but a presentation must be for different audiences, to be most effective. Learn from Rachael Butler, a seasoned speaker, how it's done.

Dare to Dream Again

Lisa Shaw

Have disappointments and defeats taken the wind out of your sails? Lisa Shaw will inspire you to dare to dream again!

Theology of Women in Ministry

Deanna Shrodes

Have you ever had someone ask you about whether God and scripture is really okay with women leading in the highest levels in the church? Come and learn biblical truth from Deanna that will set you free to soar.

Painting Yourself into a Corner as a Leader

Jennifer Spivey

Do you have limiting beliefs or paradigms that are creating obstacles for you that don't come from others but from yourself? How can you break through these things to the next level of leadership?

Now What: Finding Life Through a Layoff...and a Job

Tina Blount

Are you in time of transition or are you considering making a move? Maybe you don't know where to start. Tina is a seasoned career coach who will lead you through the next steps.

Let's Make It Official!

Susan Pippin

Why work toward ministerial credentials? Is this for you? Should it be something that you pursue? Get the 411 on this from Susan Pippin, Presbyter for Credentialed Women.

Mental Health: Let's Talk About it!

Tara Boddie

Checking our mental health should be as normal as checking our blood pressure or our temperature. For many people, they still fear talking about it. It's time to break off the shame and discuss this vital issue that affects us as leaders so much.

The Confident Woman

Pam Clayton

It's time to step out with boldness, to be who God called you to be, and do what God called you to do. What is holding you back? Pam is fired up to see you get free!

What Happened to the Plan?

Judi Cotignola

How do you pick up the pieces and move on when everything falls apart? Judi has lost it all and gained wisdom and insight to keep moving forward. Come and be encouraged to stay strong as you pick up the pieces and thrive.

Building a Great Team

Charissa Morgan

How do you build a great team from nothing, or how do you build with very little to start out with? Come and learn from an experienced team builder of all generations and backgrounds.

Living Out Your Faith Story

Beverly Evans

We all face storms in this life, and challenges that test our faith. Even leaders are not exempt. How will you remain steadfast through the doubts, fears and questions that arise in life and leadership?

The Power of Small Group Ministry

Kasey Widner

Small group ministry provides connection, accountability and mentoring. But how do you get started and what are the best practices? Join Kasey and learn how to create a small group ministry that will build disciples.
